Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-5, 7-9 and 11-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Faskhoody et al. (USPN 6,543,205).

The applied reference has a common assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

With respect to claims 1-5 and 7-9, Faskhoody et al. discloses a form-and-seal unit comprising: a fixed structure 3; forming means 5, 5' which interact cyclically with a tube of packaging material 2, the forming means comprise at least two pairs of jaws 7 having sealing means 13, 14 movable between an open position (figure 6) and a closed position (figure 11); respective pairs of forming flaps carried by the respective jaws 7 capable of having various sizes (column 2 lines 44-45), and having respective half-shell forming portion 22; two fixed cam means 56 on opposite sides of the forming means 5, defined by flat plates, a top cam profile 57 and two bottom cam profiles 58, 59; two cam follower means 39 carried by the forming flaps 21.

In reference to claims 11-20, Faskhoody et al. discloses a form-and-seal unit comprising: a fixed structure 3 including two guides 4; two forming assemblies 5, 5' which interact along a vertical axis with a tube of packaging material 2, the forming means comprise at least two pairs of jaws 7 having sealing means 13, 14 movable between an open position (figure 6) and a closed position (figure 11); respective pairs of forming flaps carried by the respective jaws 7 capable of having various sizes (column 2 lines 44-45), and having respective half-shell forming portion 22; a fixed cam plate 56 having a first and second pair of work profiles 57-60, wherein the first and second work profiles define a top cam profile 57, 58 spaced a distance from the vertical axis, the fixed cam further having a bottom cam profile 59, 60 spaced a second and different distance from the vertical axis with respect to the top cam profile(s); and two cam follower means 39 carried by the forming flaps 21. To produce packages of various volumes, the forming flaps may have different vertical dimensions, such that different forming flaps of different volumes are engageable with the work profiles of the fixed cam irrespective of their volume. Column 6 lines 21-30 Faskhoody et al. states that such a structure eliminates downtime required in changing the fixed structure of the apparatus.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 6 and 10 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed July 11, 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

During patent examination of the claims, the pending claims must be given their broadest reasonable interpretation consistent with the specification. Moreover, while the claims of issued patents are interpreted in light of the specification, prosecution history, prior art and other claims, this is not the mode of claim interpretation to be applied during examination. During examination, the claims must be interpreted as broadly as their terms reasonably allow.²

Applicant has argued that Faskhoody et al. fails to disclose fixed cam means that define different work profiles selectively engageable by cam followers. Examiner has found a reasonable interpretation of the phrase "work profile" to be an operative form or contour(s). As recited in the rejection above, Examiner has interpreted each contour variation 57, 58, 59 in the cam means 56 to define a distinct "work profile" engageable by a respective cam follower.

In response to Applicant's concern of Faskhoody's disclosure of forming flaps of differing sizes, column 6 lines 21-30 of Faskhoody et al. states that the forming flaps can be interchanged to define packages of various volumes, each forming flap variation selected having a cam follower engageable with the work profiles of the cam means.
